

Aarambh Guidelines

Clear space

In order to ensure the prominence and legibility of the identity, a clear space around the identity is required. The height of 'Rocket' in the identity equals to '1x', and the clear space around all four sides of the identity is determined by '1x'.

The marked area surrounding the identity shown on the right indicates the clear space and is not meant to be printed. This invisible box should be free from any other elements such as imagery, typography and graphic elements.

Reverse Logo

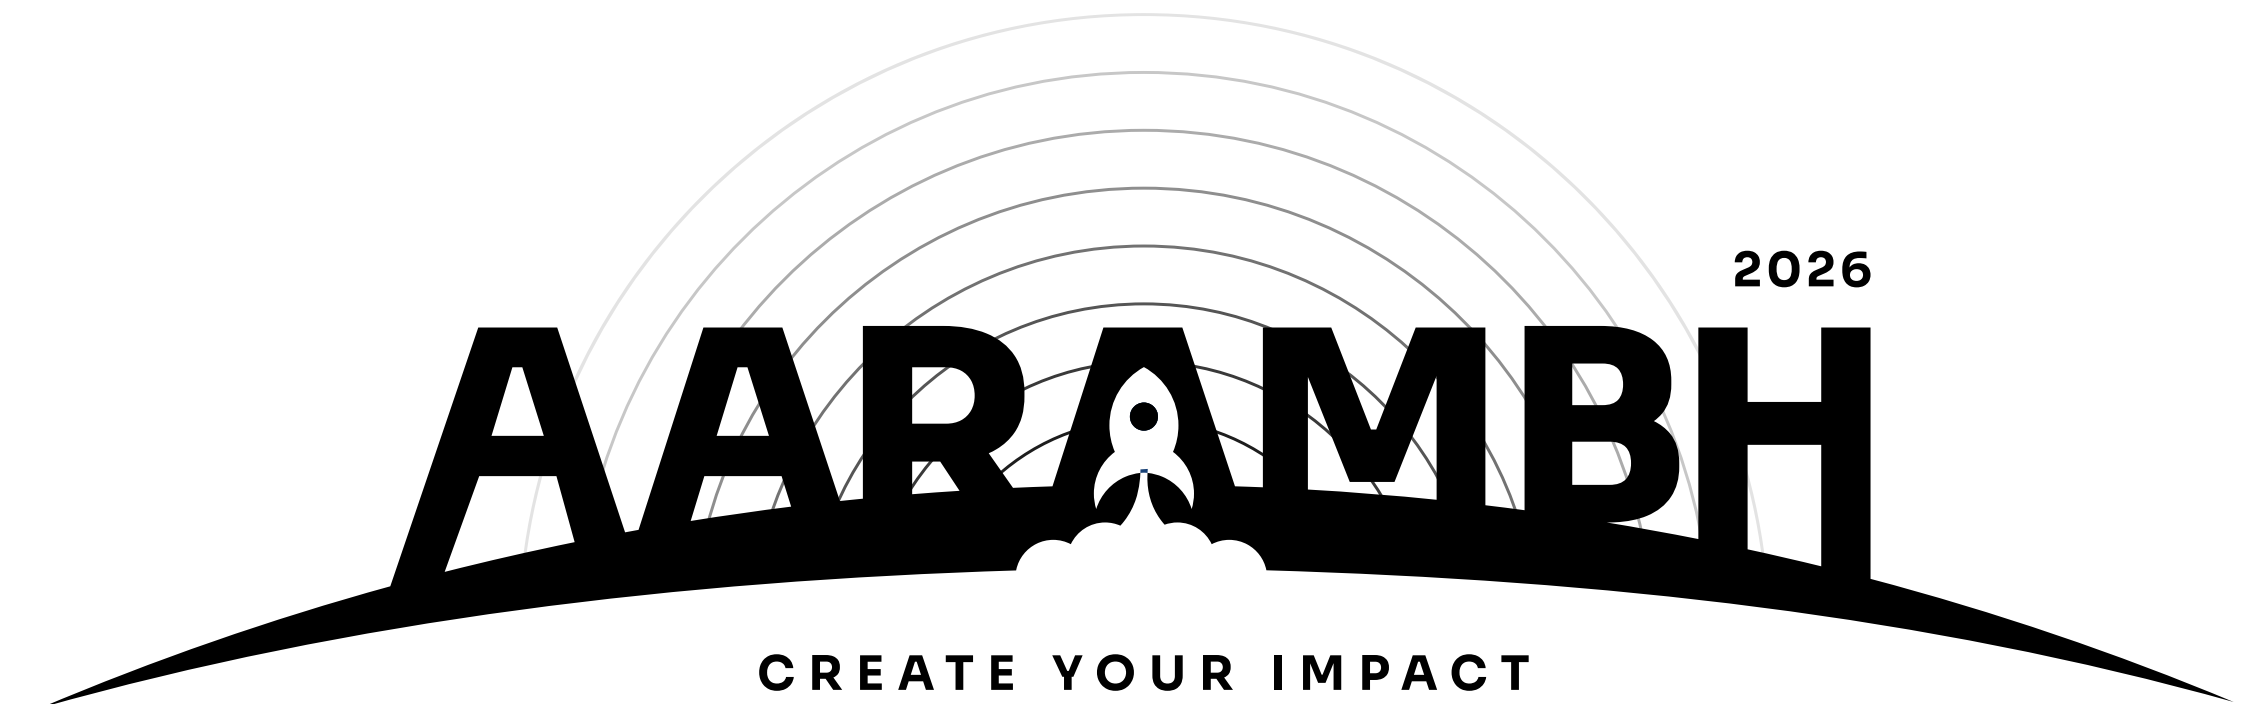

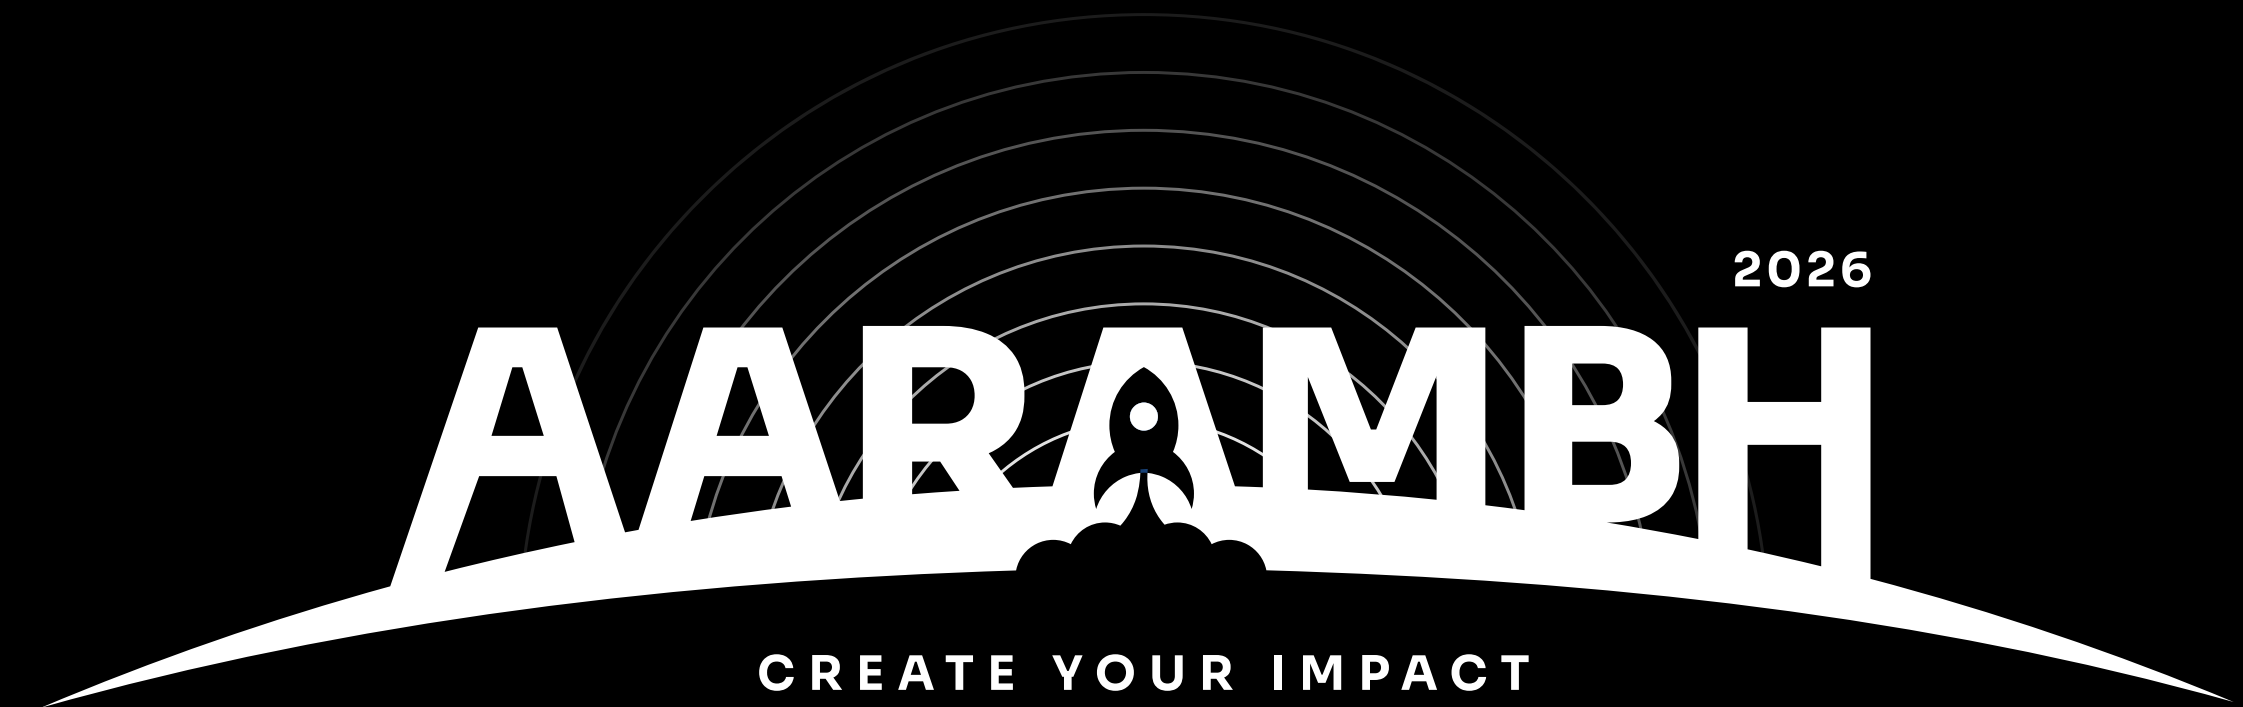

Use the reverse logo only on solid dark backgrounds or imagery that provides sufficient contrast and does not interfere with legibility. Avoid placing the reverse logo on mid-tone or low-contrast backgrounds, gradients, or complex patterns where the logo may become difficult to read.

Do not alter the colors, add outlines, shadows, or effects when using the reverse logo. Always ensure adequate clear space around the mark so it remains prominent and uncluttered.

Logo in black & white

Black and white logo should be use for specific purposes like invoices, office related collaterals, etching on various materials and UV printing only.

Logo in minimum size

For Print:

The logo cannot be reduced less than 30 mm in height. This is the minimum size that the logo can be reduced in print. The same will be applicable for the black and white logo as well as the logo in the primary colour backgrounds.

For Digital:

The logo cannot be reduced less than 90 pixels in height. This is the minimum size that the logo can be reduced in digital. The same will be applicable for the black and white logo as well as the logo in the primary colour backgrounds.

There is no limit to the maximum size.
